Foster & Homeless Youth Education Services' annual Education Summit set for November 30

Registration is now open for Foster & Homeless Youth experiences crafted for today’s classrooms and learners will be presented, along with four breakout sessions led by several experts including three from the Central Valley. The breakout sessions will revolve around classroom UDL (Universal Design for Learning), the effectiveness of eduprotocols, how to use Flip cameras for student engagement, the power of generative artificial intelligence (AI), and much more.

Those interested in attending can register at https://tulare.k12oms.org/147243232 or see the flyer for more information. An early bird registration fee of $175 per person is in effect until Friday, December 15. Beginning December 16, registration will be $225 per person. The event includes resources and lunch, but attendees should bring their own device three. Elijah Parnell and Trey Garrison scored two goals apiece and Mason Bessinger had one. Rex Vander Feer recorded 13 saves.

Tulare Western reached the championship game with a 7-6 win over No. 1 El Diamante of Visalia. The team finished the season 13-9 overall with a 7-3 record in the West Yosemite League.

Photo above:

Tulare Western High School girls water polo poses with a runner-up plaque in the CIF Central Section Division II Championship game at the Fresno State Aquatics Center. Photo by Kason Clark/The Sun-Gazette

---

Editor: Robert Herman, Communications Director